7. THE PROVOST'S SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarship Details

Postgraduate Scholarships
The Provost's Scholarships of Worcester College-Oxford is a unique opportunity for talented recent graduates to have the experience of College life in one of the world's greatest universities. The programme is highly flexible, fully funded, and free from the constraints of formal academic qualification. It is an ideal opportunity to undertake a further year's study and to enlarge intellectual and global horizons before deciding on a future career. The selection panel will be looking especially for candidates who have the vision and the potential to serve the common good of humankind in future decades, in whatever walk of life.

Field of Study

Humanities and Social Sciences

Eligibility

UNSW Students in their final undergraduate year at the University of New South Wales. This is a fully funded scholarship for study as a Visiting Student during the calendar year January to December 2019.

How It Works

The Visiting Student Programme at Worcester College is highly flexible: we will work with you to devise a course of study tailored to your needs. Scholars will arrive in Oxford at the beginning of the calendar year, usually in the year immediately after completing an undergraduate degree in Australia or New Zealand.

Oxford's terms are short and highly intensive. In each of the first two terms Hilary (January to March) and Trinity (April to June) you will take a Major Tutorial weekly for 8 weeks, and a Minor Tutorial fortnightly. Each tutorial will be on a bespoke subject and will involve extensive reading and the writing of weekly/fortnightly essays, which will be discussed in one-on-one tutorials with academic experts in the field. All Humanities and Social Science disciplines are considered, and it is possible to take different tutorials in different fields. The possibilities are extensive, and visiting students often design their own tutorials with professors in Oxford. An indication of the range of possible tutorial courses can be found at http://www.worc.ox.ac.uk/applying/visiting-students/academics/choosing-your-tutorials

The summer will provide an opportunity to travel in Britain and Europe, then from September to December (Michaelmas term), the Provost's Scholars will work on a dissertation or research project, again supervised one to one by an expert tutor. The progression through the year is thus an ideal transition from undergraduate to graduate style work. There are no examinations and no University of Oxford qualification is offered, but Scholars will receive a Diploma from the College attesting that they have completed a year as a Provost's Scholar.

Apply for 2020

Closing date: See website

Benefits

The Provost's Scholarship will:

- pay the full cost of College and University tuition. This is worth £30,000;
- provide a stipend of £10,000, paid in four quarterly instalments; and
- cover the costs of one return flight to Australia. You will need to meet other travel expenses from within your stipend.
- provide assistance with health insurance.

How to apply

There is no application form. Candidates should submit a letter of application, explaining why you wish to be considered for the Provost's Scholarship and what you hope to achieve during the year, including a broad indication of your proposed field(s) of study and your prior qualifications to undertake the work you propose, together with a CV.

Applications should be sent electronically to provost@worc.ox.ac.uk, with subject line "Provost's Scholarship Application." You should also ask three referees to write on your behalf, directly to provost@worc.ox.ac.uk.

The deadline for the receipt of applications and references is 30th April. Shortlisted candidates will be interviewed in Sydney, in Auckland, or by Skype at the end of May.

8. RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Background

Established in 1903, under the will of Cecil Rhodes, the Rhodes scholarships are the oldest and perhaps the most prestigious international graduate scholarship program in the world.

Each year, there are nine Scholarships available in Australia to enable outstanding students – chosen on the basis of exceptional intellect, character, leadership, and commitment to service – to study at the University of Oxford.

Why apply for a Rhodes Scholarship?

Through this program, the Scholarship aims to develop outstanding leaders who would be motivated to fight 'the world's fight' and to 'esteem the performance of public duties as their highest aim', and to promote international understanding and peace.

Rhodes scholars have gone on to serve at the forefront of government, the professions, commerce, the arts, education, research and other domains. They are known advocates for expanded social justice and have advanced the frontiers of science and medicine.

Benefits at a glance

A Rhodes Scholarship covers:

- All University and College fees (including application fee)
- A personal stipend which is fixed by the Trustees (approx.; £14,276 p.a.)
- Private health insurance (BUPA)
- One economy class airfare to Oxford at the start of the Scholarship, as well as an economy flight back to the student's home country at the conclusion of the Scholarship.

Eligibility Criteria (for Australia)

Applicants must:

- Be an Australian Citizen (resident in Australia for at least five of the last ten years)
- Have completed (or due to complete by December 2018) either at least four years of undergraduate study or an equivalent combination of undergraduate and postgraduate study.

Apply for 2020

Opens: 1 July 2018

- Must be no older than 26 years at the commencement of studies at the University of Oxford.
- Must be available for interview usually held in October
- Not applied for a Rhodes scholarship two or more times before.

Selection Process

The selection criteria, as found in the Will of Cecil Rhodes, govern selection across all Rhodes constituencies. They are:

- Literary and scholastic attainments
- Energy to use one's talents to the full
- Truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness and fellowship
- Moral force of character and instincts to lead, and to take an interest in one's fellow beings.

Selection committees are made up of Rhodes Scholars and community leaders from diverse backgrounds.

Resources available

Academic staff at UNSW, including former Rhodes Scholars and Oxford graduates.

Tips for success

Talk over application well before due date regarding:

- CV Preparation
- Referee selection (6)
- Personal statement

Each of these (incl. references) should address as much as possible the four key selection criteria.

Referees
Referees (6) must be chosen carefully. Usually 3 academic referees, plus 1 covering school activities and 2 relating to community/sports.

Personal Statement
Drafting personal statement is a challenging process (talk through with selected friends/advisers).

Interview
Be prepared for wide ranging questions at the interview.

Other Options
Don't unduly emphasise the Rhodes, apply also for other Scholarships (motivation, career ambitions etc. are more important). Most who make the final short list will be successful in other applications.

Important Points to remember when preparing your application

- You can make an application for the Scholarship whilst still in the process of completing Honours. Law is not awarded at Honours level at UNSW, so as an alternative, a 'Statement of Excellence' is required from the Dean.
- If you have not undertaken an Honours year, ensure that the reason for this decision is incorporated within your personal statement and be ready to answer this question if you are selected for interview. Always explain why you made your choices. It is important to note that if you have not undertaken Honours, you would normally need particularly good results in your pass degree in order to be selected for interview.
- There is no formula for your academic background for admission to the Rhodes program. If there are 'imperfections' in your academic record, describe the reasons why in your personal statement.
- The personal statement component of your application is critical in reaching the interview. This is not a re-working of your curriculum vitae. Covering your motivations, aspirations and future plans, this is your opportunity to explain why you should be chosen and why you would be a leader.
- If you receive an offer of a Scholarship in 2018, you would be required to begin your progam at Oxford in 2019.

How to apply

Review the Rhodes website and create an account to open an application form online

11. Westpac Future Leader Scholarship

Background

The Westpac Scholarship Program is an initiative of the Westpac Bicentennial Foundation. The Foundation celebrated Westpac's 200th anniversary in 2017 with a $100 million gift to future generations of Australians. With the sole aim of educating and advancing Australians, we'll ensure those with a passion to contribute to our nation's growth and prosperity have every chance to do so.

Why apply for Westpac Future Leader Scholarship?

Whether your focus is Asia, new technology or social change we're offering postgraduate study for talented individuals at Australia's leading universities. Scholars will be exceptional people, chosen for their potential to make a difference to Australia's future in one of our three focus areas:

1. Strengthening Australia-Asia ties
2. Enabling positive social change
3. Technology and Innovation

Valued at up to $120,000 over, typically, 2-3 years, scholarships will be awarded annually for research or coursework studies at graduate level.

Benefits at a glance

A key feature of the Future Leaders Scholarship is the Leadership Development Program, developed specifically for our Scholars.

You'll experience leadership development beyond the classroom. This nine-month program supports you to build on your strengths, develop targeted leadership capabilities, create career pathways and succeed in your field.

The Leadership Development program provides relevant experiences, exposure to global thought leaders and explores key topics related to our focus areas.

The Leadership Development Program was created in collaboration with recognised experts in leadership excellence, including several leading Australian universities.

Next Steps

1. Research your options
You should start researching at least 12-18 months prior to the academic year in which you want to attend a U.S. college or university.

2. Finance your studies
Plan ahead; applications for financial aid go together with applications for admissions so find out what scholarships are available at the institution you want to study and apply on time!

3. Complete your application
Applying for U.S. study takes time and concentration as each application is different and involves collecting recommendations, writing essays, and routing the results of required standard examinations. Plan to give this step the time it deserves for a successful result!

Applications vary by university (as early as 1 December)

4. Apply for your Student Visa
Information pertaining to visas and travel can be found on the U.S. Department of State's Buearu of Consular Affairs website and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Study in the States.

5. Prepare for your departure
The final step in your pursuit to study in the U.S. is to finalise your travel arrangements, attend a pre-departure orientation at your local EducationUSA centre or online, gather pre-departure materials and documents for arrival, as well as report to your school and attend orientations.
